But this time
they are the ones in lust!

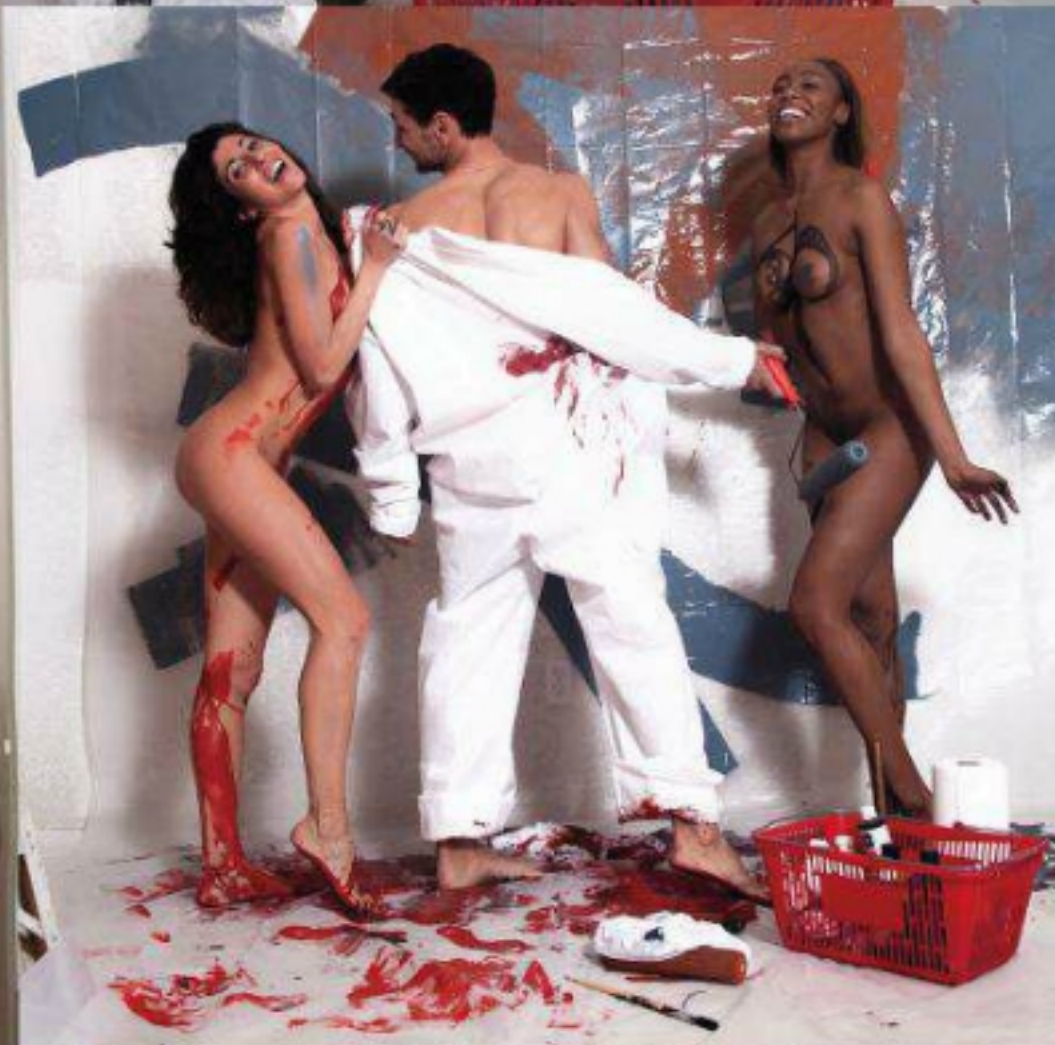

Their passion knows no bound
as they try to get 'his eye'

An 'open' invitation still does not do the trick!

Frustrated! they jump into the shower to cool off, only then... unknown to them he "Gives In" to his carnal desires

Desperate measures seem to be the call of the day...

Hollywood is chocks full of hot celebrity relationships, but not all of them are as fabulous as these A-listers' affairs. Fill in the list and guess which couple you think is the best, match your ratings with ours to see if you are fashion savvy enough to spot the true divas!

CELEBRITY COUPLE RANKINGS

- ☐ Brad & Angelina
- ☐ Justin & Selena
- ☐ Giselle & Tom
- ☐ Jennifer & Justin
- ☐ Kate & William
- ☐ David & Victoria
- ☐ Tom & Katie
- ☐ Gwen & Gavin
- ☐ Heidi & Seal
- ☐ Beyonce & Jay Z

2011'S MOST FASHIONABLE COUPLES

1. Angelina Jolie and Brad Pitt are Hollywood's king and queen couple. There's no one more A-list than them!

2. Victoria Beckham is known for fashionable and elegance as she appeared with David, they become the perfect couple. On the street, at the red carpet or at formal events, they are at the center with extremely fashionable styles.

3. Beyonce and Jay Z are the ultimate power couple -- and now with their first baby, the family of three is officially indestructible. At Met Gala, Beyoncé was wearing a black, mermaid-style Pucci gown with gold embroidery. Jay-Z showed tons of swagger in a white suit jacket, helping his lovely wife climb the stairs in her super-tight dress.

4. Suri Cruise is considered the most fashionable star in the Cruise' family. However, Tom Cruise and Katie Holmes have an impeccable eye for fashion.

5. Kate Middleton is always classic yet sexy whenever she appears alongside with Prince William, they are considered one of the most fashionable couple today.

6. Supermodel Gisele Bundchen in a bright red Alexander McQueen gown at this year's Met Gala, and her handsome husband, Tom Brady, looked equally dapper in a black suit

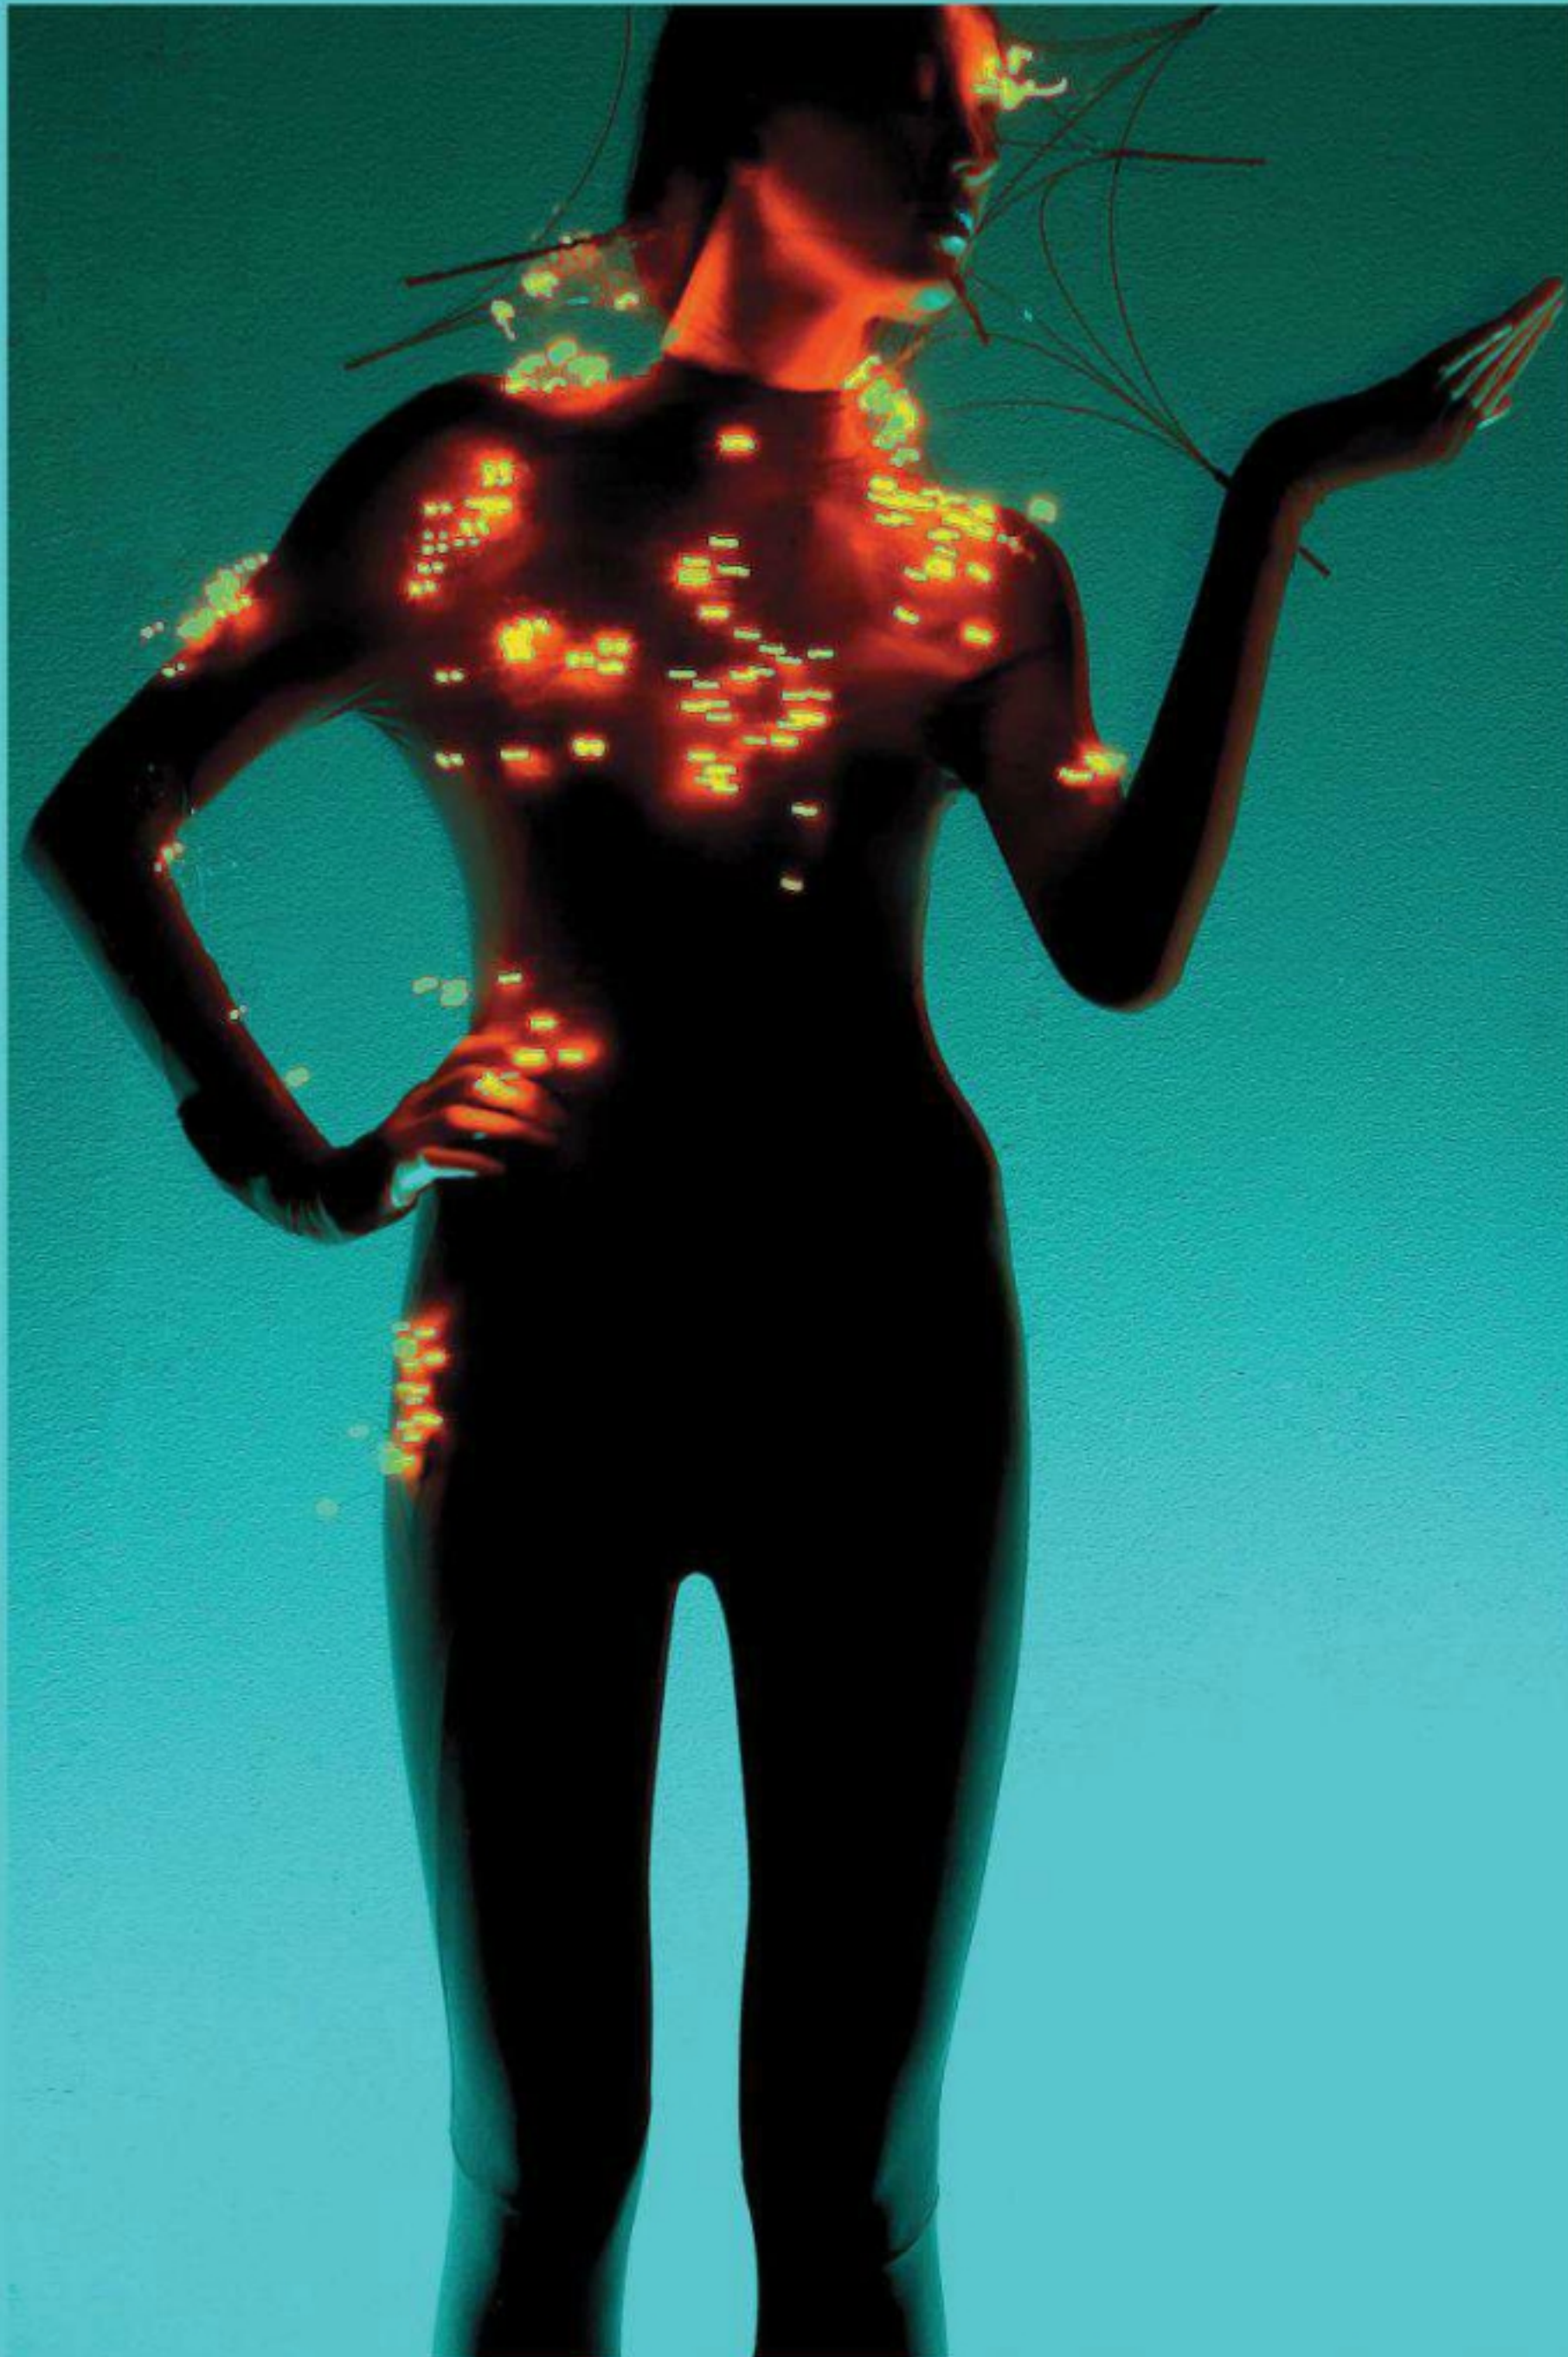

7. We never expected Jennifer Aniston to finally settle down with someone, but now she rumored to be eloping with Justin Theroux!

8. Heidi Klum and her husband Seal hit the red carpet at the 2011 Emmy Awards with one of the kind Christian Siriano dress. Seal looked equally sexy with his wide open, and baring it all shirts.

9. Justin Bieber and Selena Gomez are young, but madly in love-- and it helps they are two of the most famous people in young Hollywood. Their relationship has been discussed since November 2012. Wherever they go, the fans follow! Appeared at the Vanity Fair Oscar party together, Selena wore a fantastic red Dolce & Gabbana dress while Justin opted for a black suit from the same designer.

10. Gwen Stefani has always been a top stylish celebrity on the red carpet. In 2011 amfAR Gala Cannes Film Festival, Gavin looked cool in black and white, while Gwen made a statement in a custom-made black gown — just one of their stylish moments in 2011.

If only your dress could 'Speak'
Phillips' Bubelle

Confused about why your 14 year daughter is acting strange?
Worried about the eerie silence over the dinner table?

Philips Buble a dress made up of emotion probes attached to a 'Skin' layer which projects patterns and colors into another layer on the surface could be the direction of the future for clothing.

These are clothes that speak!

Watch a video of the Buble Dress

Worried about the fact that you have to go to a gallery opening right after a day of board meetings?

If Philips has anything to do with Fashion you most probably will be able to tell your dress to change its colors and patterns and even its shape as your mood becomes more artistic and your surrounding become more colorful.

For the successful executive with an active social life, this is the perfect wardrobe in ONE. A dress that changes itself. You have a woman to thank for this too... Lucy McRae is the project lead for one of the SKIN projects at Philips Design.

Orly Ruimi Jewelry Designer

Orly Ruimi is a Jewelry design and sculpting student at San Francisco's Academy of Art University. Her 'Over the Top - One of a Kind' Jewelry has already made its way to the wardrobe of Hollywood stars and celebrated musicians. Orly designs for the red carpet, her designs are not meant to be worn at anything less than a major event to make a statement! Its statement jewelry at its extreme.

Orly hails from Israel and started designing jewelry about 4 years ago and her first collection was presented in 2008 in Washington DC. Her design direction comes from within and she generally lets her art flow without much prior planning, but she confessed to seeking inspiration from the works of Alexander McQueen, Salvador Dali and Frank Gehry and a few other 'Over the Top' artists. Her aim is always to create something 'Magnificent', 'One of a Kind' haute couture pieces that express freedom from the norm and explore the boundaries of fashion and art.

Orly is an inspired artist who wants to take her designs to the level where she has a Couture Jewelry store in San Francisco. This Bachelor of Finance turned artist is supported in this mission by her 'greatest fan' her husband who is the VP of Americas for a large Telecom company headquartered in San Francisco.

You can see Orly's jewelry line on the runway at the Spring Fashion show of the Academy of Art SF in May and at her website www.orlyruimi.com

Kevin Nguyen

Makeup Maestro

Kevin Nguyen is a Genius. This 22 year makeup maestro started down the road of making people look beautiful at the super young age of 15 when he ventured to the city of angels to enlist into the Joe Blasco Makeup School.

After finishing his course in LA he came to San Francisco to join 'The Makeup Institute' where he learnt the art of Hair Design and Nails. He is a licensed cosmetologist and already sports an impressive resume having worked for MAC, Lancome and Macy's cosmetic brands.

Currently Kevin is working full time as a cosmetologist and also going to school full time to earn his business degree. He plans to open up his own line of makeup and hair products by the time he is 25 and take his brand of environment friendly 'Complete Coverage - Skin Sensitive' line of natural cosmetics to the world.

Kevin is one of the most amazing hair designers in the San Francisco Bay today and he pulled out all stops to create some amazing hair art which is part of the Cover Shot for this issue of VOLO. Kevin says that he derives his inspiration from nature, colors of the sunset, leaves, old trees, snow and victorian couture. He is an artist par excellence and we look forward to his trancesion to the center stage of Hi-Fashion as he accomplishes the lofty goals he has set for himself.

KUAL revolution

Charlie Le Mindu - 'Haute Coiffeur'

Extreme Hair Artist, Hat Designer and now Fashion Designer Charlie Le Mindu is 'the FASEXUAL revolution - Designer of the Month' for VOLO Magazine.

Charlie shocked the fashion community (which still stands divided over his bare minimums fashion show at London Fashion Week where completely nude and semi nude models sporting Charlie's hair art, head pieces and other designer pieces walked the runway to the tunes of orgasmic music in the background. In his latest production called Burka Curfew for Paris Fashion week SS 2012, Charlie defied the traditions of the conservative eastern part of the world with completely nude models wearing designer headpieces cavorting to the tunes of Indian classical music from the 80's.

This fusion of the perfect woman form (we at VOLO believe women look best when they are bare) combined with the amazing art of this breakout fledgling designer has got tongues wagging and people (and more..) standing up to take notice. Charlie is relvant and he is making waves!

Le Mindu, a french designer who launched his label in 2009, was a celebrity hair dresser who has now taken his talent for Haut Couture further!! His head-pieces have been worn by our very own Lady Gaga. She has also been spotted sporting his hair inspired looks from Paris Fashion Week Spring 2012, a collection Le Mindu created while partnering with Hairdreams Extensions. Hairdreams hair is collected and carefully hand-selected throughout the world under strict and ethical guidelines and then processed through the most rigorous qualitative standards.

Charlie Le Mindu is an inspiration and ideal for all those designer who believe in crossing boundaries and creating controversial, eye popping fashion that liberates women from the bounds of traditional fashion.

OUR FAVORITE SONGS, VIDEOS & ARTISTS..NOW!

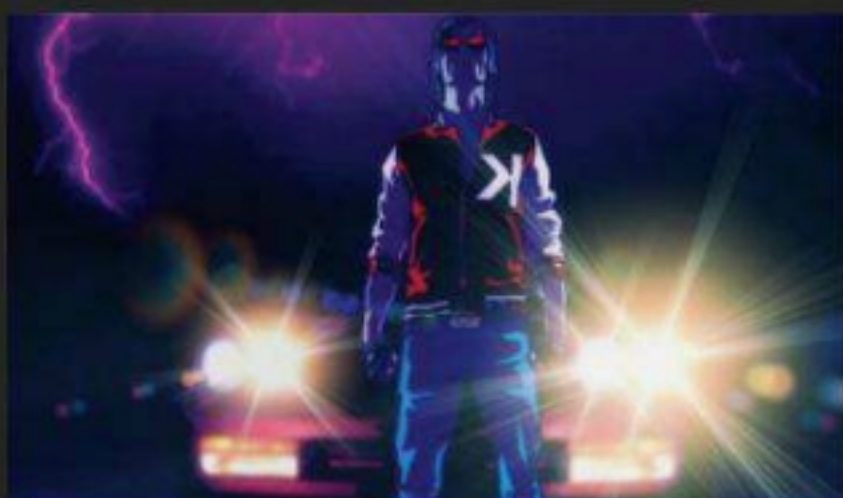

1. Korn Featuring Skrillex & Kill the Noise "Narcissistic Cannibal" - Music Video

I've been into Korn since the 90's & I'm also a fan of Skrillex, so it's awesome to see a collab between the Metal rockers, the dubstep DJ/Producer & also Kill The Noise. This video rocks, showcasing Korn live with lots of visual eyecandy. The song & video have all the elements for Korn fans & breathes new life into their heavy sound with Skrillex' & Kill The Noise's mind bending dubstep beats.

2. Kavinsky feat Lovefoxx "Nightcall" ▶

This is from the Drive movie soundtrack & man I really loved this movie & Ryan Gosling kicks ass! This track is one of my favorites from the soundtrack & really defines the vibe, with its eerie opening vocals & dark, but awesome synths & driving beat, perfect track for those late night drives! Kavinsky = musical genius!

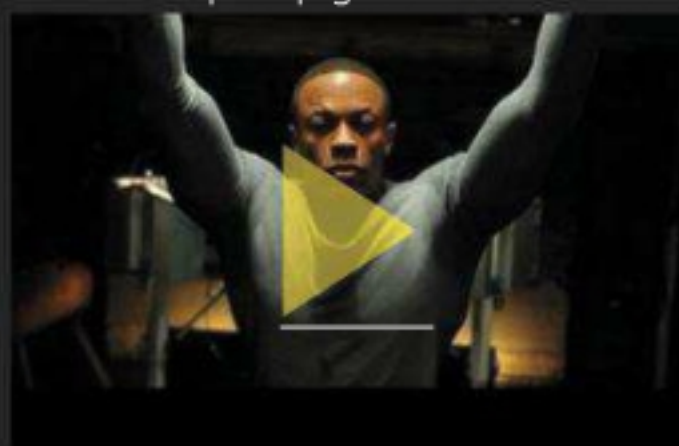

3. Yelawolf Featuring Kid Rock "Let's Roll" ▶

Eminem's new Hip Hop protégé, dubbed the Southern Eminem, is making waves with his debut album "Radioactive". I'm digging this new single featuring old-school Hip Hop/Rock vet Kid Rock. It's a fun, white trash, shit talking ride, with a big catchy hook that stays in your head.

4. Dr. Dre Feat Eminem & Skylar Grey "I Need A Doctor" - Music Video

This video is off his 3rd studio album, Detox, & shows Dre, looking back on his life & his great contributions to Hip Hop & it rocks! He even dies in the video, til, Eminem reminds him how great he was & Skylar Grey's angelic voice breathes the Hip Hop genius back to life.

5. Afrobeta "Play House" - Music Video

Miami based dance duo, Afrobeta, voted one of miami's best of 2011, steps it up with a tron-like virtual world video that is part cyber, part sexy & just hot. Love the champagne glass hot-tub scene! Also, check out the debut of my DJ act Bishopmagnetic's funky new electro remix of Playhouse featured here! Afrobeta will be featured at this year's Ultra Music Festival-Miami.

Happy 2012 everyone & welcome to my new music column! I want to start by saying 2011 was such an awesome year in music! We saw the further explosion of Electronic Dance Music finally showing signs of mainstream success in the states after decades of push, with megahits ruling the airwaves, TV ads & the Billboard charts by cross-over DJ/producers & acts David Guetta, Skrillex, Swedish House Mafia, LMFAO & Deadmau5 to name a few. The music industry took an upward swing with massive albums & songs from Adele & Florence & The Machine to Lady Gaga, The Foo Fighters, Coldplay, LMFAO to pop crooner Bruno Mars.

Concerts & festivals also grew in leaps & bounds with Electronic Dance festivals leading the growth, as Miami's Ultra Music Festival sold out in advance topping 150K people & Electric Daisy Carnival moved from Los Angeles to Las Vegas hitting 170K+ people, as well as The Identity Tour, which claimed to be the 1st all DJ festival tour, drew thousands & hit 30+ cities & amphitheatres with headliners Kaskade, Pretty Lights & Steve Aioki. Rock festivals also saw a surge in numbers with Indio's Coachella, Chicago's Lollapalooza & Tennessee's Bonnaroo all enjoying sold-out success. Swedish House Mafia became the 1st DJ act to officially play a solo concert at Madison Square Gardens, which sold-out in a matter of minutes. Also, for its 20th Anniversary Jane's Addiction front-man, Perry Farrell took his Alt-Rock festival international with the 1st Lollapalooza in Santiago, Chile, a deal I personally put together for Perry, but that's other news...

2012 is looking to be an even bigger year in music. I'm also excited to also share all my new music projects with you, as well as my Hot Top 10 music videos & songs, event picks, featured spotlights & more. So enjoy my new column, share & most of all breathe some music into your soul & live NOW! - Sason Bishope Parry

6. Foo Fighters "These Days"

Foo Fighters have hands down released one of the best rock albums of 2011, if not the last decade. The newest single, "Wasting Light", is dominating radio with its rhythmic guitars, catchy melodies & massive hook. Dave Grohl is brilliant, & it's amazing to see his talents continue to shine more than a decade after Nirvana.

7. Bush "The Sound Of Winter"

It's been a while since 90's Veteran Alt-Rock band released new music, but they come storming back with this awesome new single! I love the thick tone of Gavin Rossdale's voice & this gloomy track with beautiful harmonies & crunchy riffs should put them back in the game. Gavin is married to Gwen Stefani so he's got lots to be excited about! New album "Sea Of Memories" is out now.

8. Crystal Castles feat Robert Smith "Not In Love"

I know this song was released over a year ago, but it's such an awesome version of the Canadian Electronic music band Crystal Castles original that I had to include it & big props for tapping one of my favorite singers, The Cure's Robert Smith for vocals! This was just a perfect collaboration & Robert Smith's passionate vocals just soar!

9. Jessie J feat B.O.B "Price Tag" – Music Video

Sexy British import Jessie J has been making waves stateside & this Emil Nava directed video is a banger & has gotten over 150M views on youtube. The video shows that life isn't just about material things. B.O.B brings his energetic flow to round off a great song & video & props to Jessie J for an inspiring good vibe message.

10. Avicii "Levels" – Skrillex Remix

Avicii is not only one third of one of the biggest DJ groups in the world, Swedish House Mafia, but his single, "Levels" was one of the biggest club anthems of 2011 launching his solo career into the stratosphere. Skrillex takes on the track & throws his dubstep flavor in the mix, and it takes it to a whole new space- just awesomeness from 2 of dance music's brightest stars!

SAN FRANCISCO EMERGING ARTIST REVIEW

Part of the Bayliens crew, a new wave edgy hip hop group from the Bay Area, Enzyme has been rock'n the mic for years & building his fan base alien head by alien head. He's shared the stage with lots of artists such as Lil Wayne, FloRida, Pitbull, Zion I, Too Short, Planet B, Tech N9ne, Atmosphere & many more. Originally from the Dominican Republic & finding his way to Cali, he's had a crazy up & down journey, growing up struggling on the streets and finally finding Hip Hop, which changed his life & his love for life. In 2009, he was voted best new pop artist at the Hollywood Music in Media Awards & he is one of the only Bay Area artists to have his music played on 3 different top 40 stations at the same time including- Wild 94.9 KYLD, Live 105 & 102.5 KDON. His recent single, "I'm So Gone" feat Mousie Monroe, is lighting up the clubs and radio currently & his songs have been remixed by popular DJ's including by DJ Zya, Meikee Magnetic & Trevor Simpson to name a few. Enzyme Dynamite is on the rise & you can check out more about this cool new artist at www.enzymedynamite.com

Lots going on this month for SBP! Planet B just finished new video, "Rock Hard", (featured here) & its online & public. Check out Planet B's last video "Trampstamp", which showcases & celebrates lots of beautiful tattooed girls. Planet B's long awaited album will be released this year. My electro DJ act BishopeMagnetic just finished a remix for Miami dance duo, Afrobeta (featured here) & also just released a new triple DJ mix, which is available for FREE download. I'm also doing a bunch of music collaborations with other amazing artists & last, I'm working on new music for a new project that's been in the works for a while, called The Bishope Project- Next month I will share a sample track!

 Wanted to give a special tribute out to Jon Roberts, the infamous Miami Cocaine Drug Traffiker, who just lost his battle to cancer. I met Jon, several years ago, and was inspired to write the song, Cocaine Cowboy with Planet B. The song was later remixed by superstar DJ Paul Oakenfold and you can check out the Live video here, in Memory of the late Jon Roberts. His life story will be depicted in the upcoming movie American Desperado.

SBP MUSIC VIDEO SPOTLIGHT

Planet B "Rock Hard" - Music Video

The new video, directed by Rick Haynes & shot at San Francisco's Fuel VIP lounge, shows the electro Hip Hop rockers, head-bang'n with an awesome mixture of club & metal kids! The drinks were flowing & it was fun to shoot. Watch out for the crazy dude walking towards the camera, Lol. Song is a dance rock banger that Rocks Hard, with Planet B's signature music-blend, this time mixing heavy metal guitar riffs with house music & some fun raps about a hot chick & shots out to 80's metal & rock bands! The Video just got released online & is public, so check it out now. Throw your horns in the air & dance!

On the Nature Trail

Model: Betsy Claire Nix
Photos: Randy Craig

Why spending time in Nature makes us happy & how it can make us healthier.

Have you heard of the term 'Nature Deficit Disorder' ? You cannot find this in medical journals or in the annals of medicine, but with the advent of the digital age, we and our kids are spending so much time inside homes and other buildings that we are losing touch with the very basis of our existence, we are losing touch with mother nature.

Taking a hike along the beautiful mountainsides of beautiful Oregon, photographer Randy Craig shoots images that show how natural and refreshing it can be to relax and let it loose in your beautiful natural surroundings.

Nature makes us healthier, just the high concentration of oxygen and the physical exercise itself is a big boon. Combine that with building up immunity to diseases by exposing yourself to non harmful but new types of life forms. Mother nature has the cure if we care to look.

Did you know that being outside in nature for just 20 minutes a day is enough to significantly boost vitality levels, according to new University of Rochester psychology research. For example, research has shown that people on wilderness excursions report feeling more alive and that just recalling outdoor experiences increases feelings of happiness and health.
Credit: University of Rochester

Betsy Nix is a country girl who has the good fortune of being close to nature all her life. Her flawless skin, amazing curves and the ability to become one with nature has removed the need for any makeup or special effects to capture angelic pictures of this beauty in her natural surroundings.

Water is essential to life, to our very existence, water represents life on Earth. We all have felt the relaxing effect of water sounds and felt a sense of peace come over us when we hear the ocean waves or a raging mountain stream. Hearing the sounds of water in their natural environments touches on our inner beings where we are on some subconscious level reminded of this. And hearing it instantly soothes us and relaxes our muscles and mind.

A photograph of a person's legs and feet resting on a rock in a stream. The person is lying down, with their legs bent and feet flat on the rock. The water is dark and flowing around the rock. The background shows more rocks and some greenery. The text is overlaid on the right side of the image.

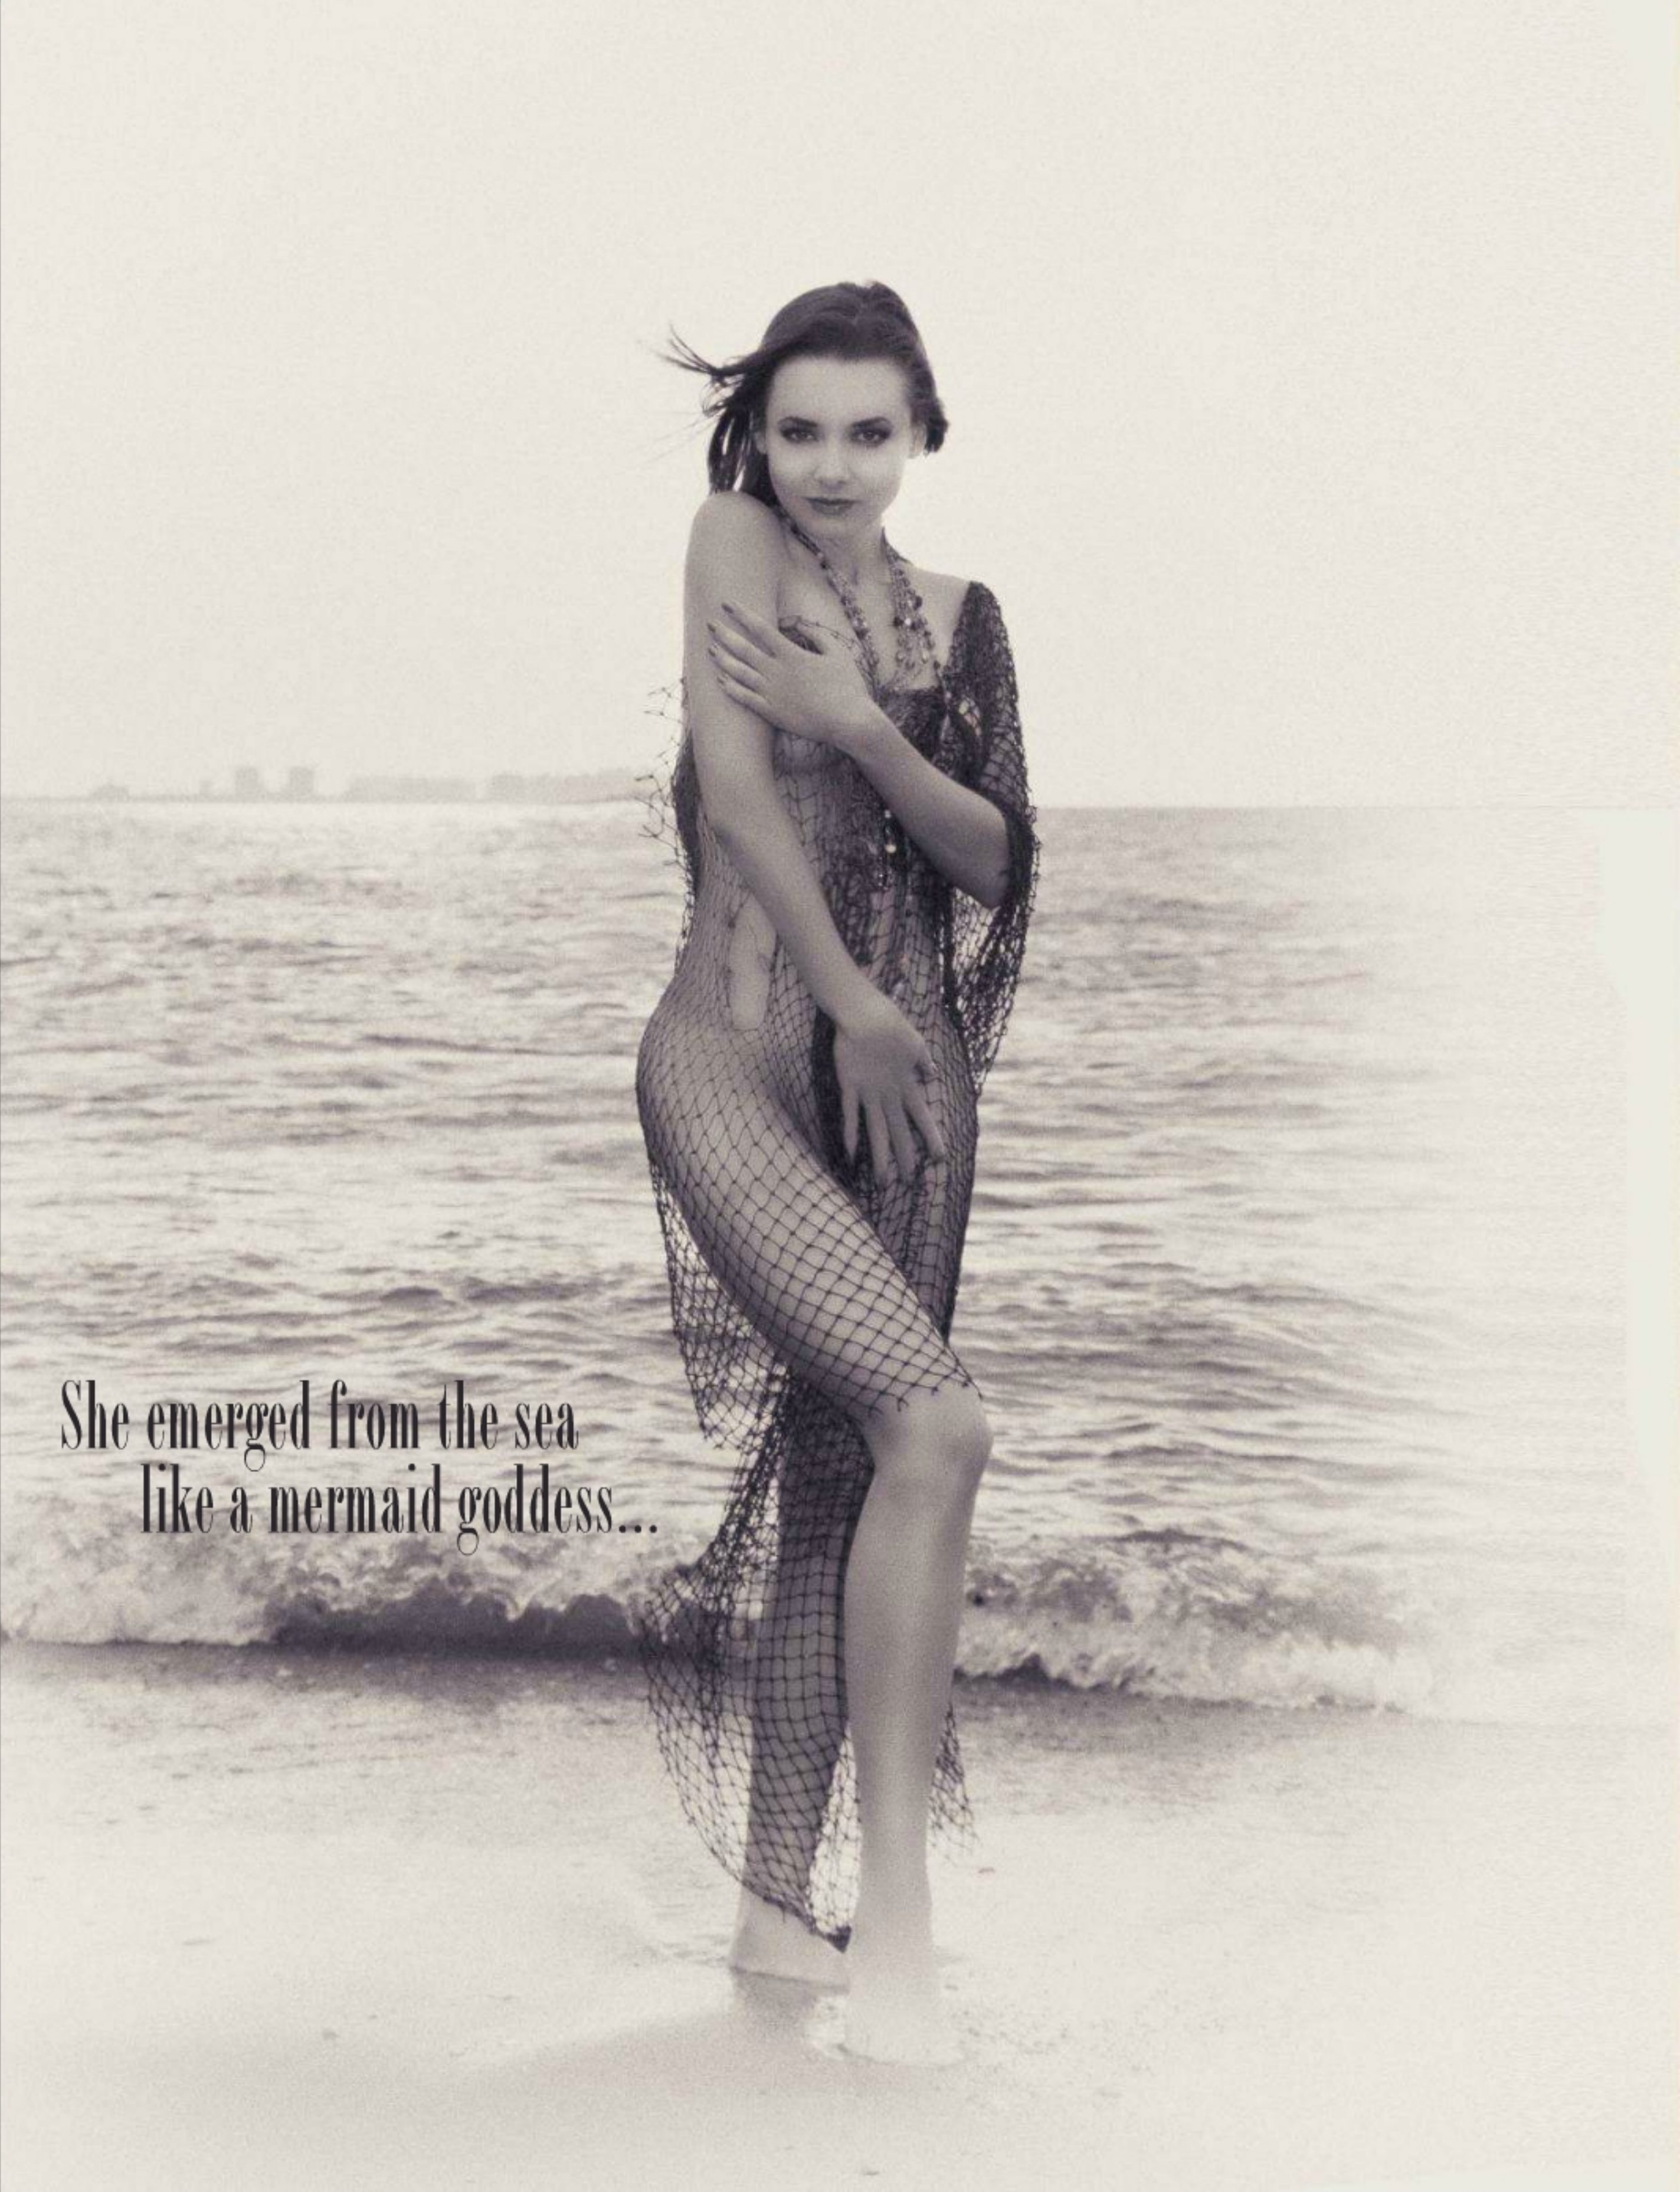

Randy Craig is a passionate photographer, & an avid hiker who resides in Portland Oregon. He thrives in the abundance of opportunities available to those who live in the beautiful Pacific Northwest and strives to share its beauty through his photos. He began taking photos while still in high school and has done countless natur-escapes over the years. He started shooting nudes in nature in 2005 and is currently in the process of making more of his art available commercially for admirers of nature, in the form of prints and publications.

The text "She struggled and she fought, but the net was too strong..." is overlaid on the lower left of the image.

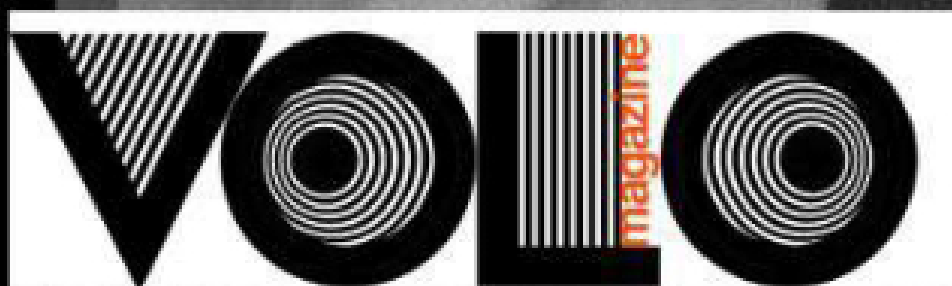

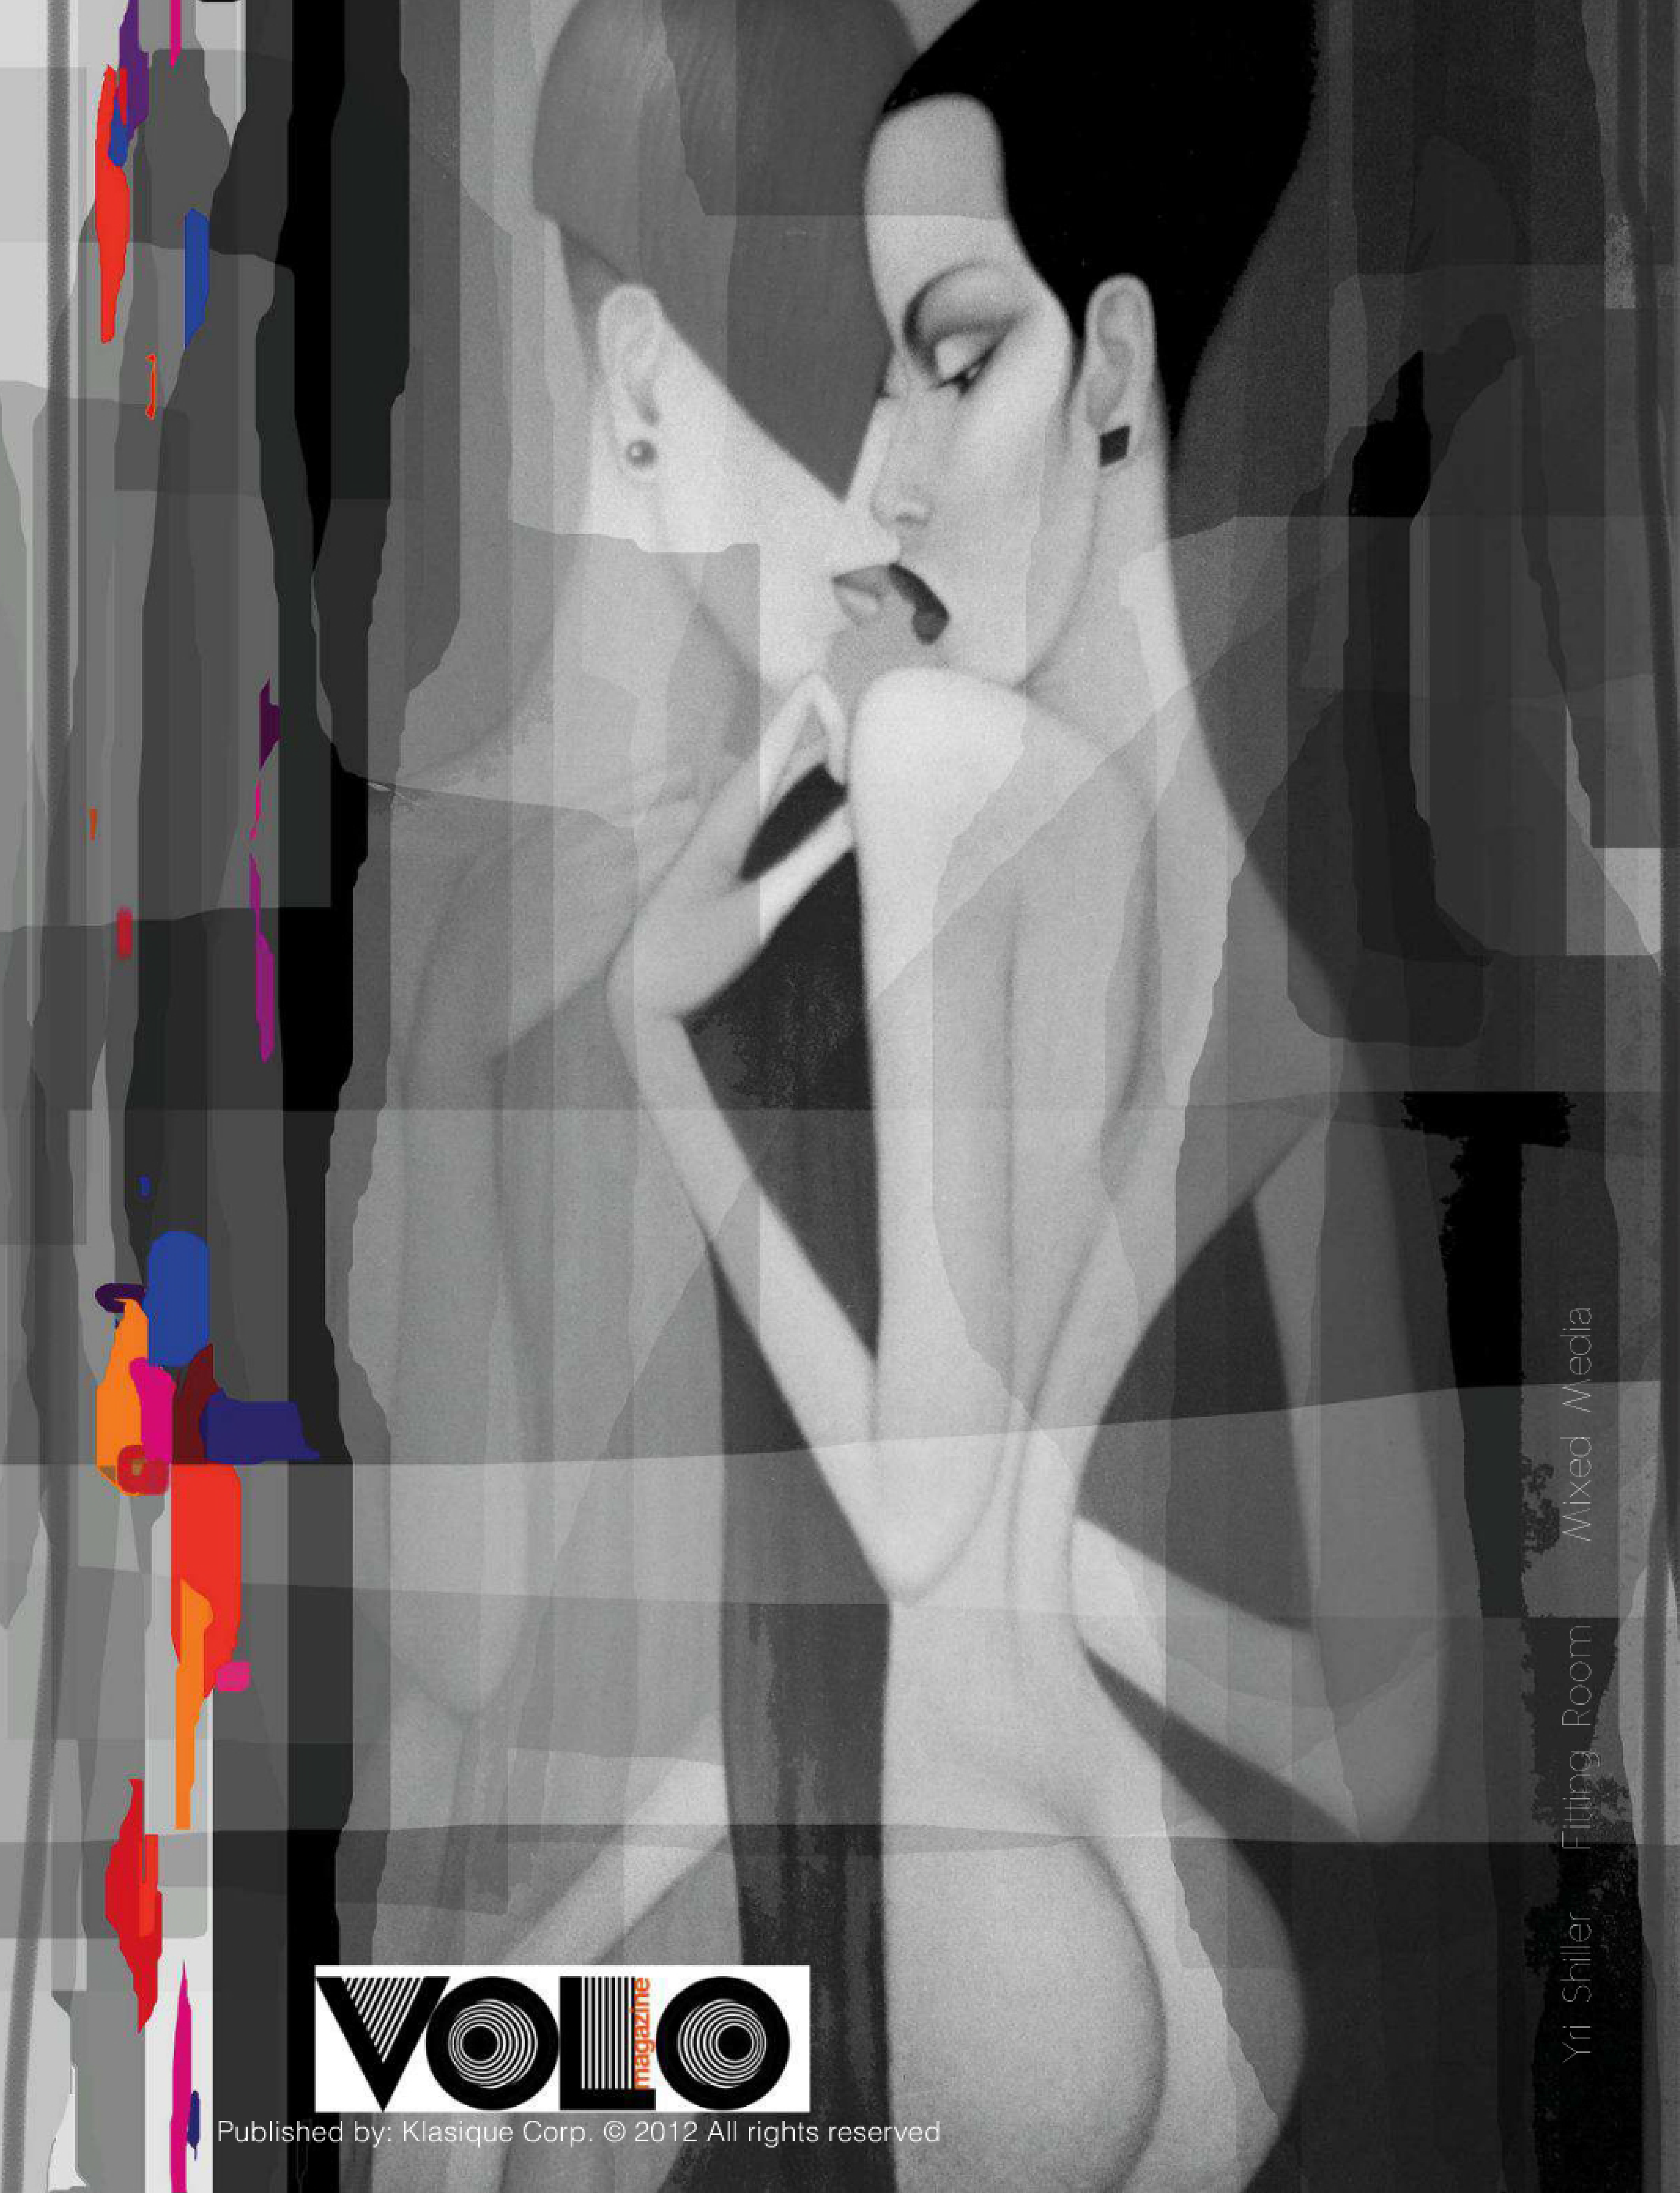

*She struggled and she fought,
